Working For An American Tradition

From the President

To start off, I'd like to say thank you for attending your local Whitetails Unlimited event. Without you and your constant support, our organization would not have grown to be the nation's premier white-tailed deer organization that we are today. By attending a WTU event, you are a part of our story, one that has been working for an American tradition for the past 42 years.

Now, I'd like you to take a look around you—who do you see? Do you see your neighbors, your family, your coworkers, and your hunting buddies? You probably see some people you don't know, too. But, in a way, you do know them—they are the people sitting beside you advocating for the white-tailed deer and hunting for the next generation just like you are. That's something that every single person at a WTU event has in common. We may come from different states and different walks of life, but we all come together to preserve the hunting tradition we know and love so well.

Now, think about the people you know who are not sitting beside you at a WTU event. What can you do to help them get involved in hunting and the outdoors? Can you offer to take them (or their kids) hunting? What about introducing them to a trap shooting league? Even better, next time you buy tickets for a WTU event, consider inviting someone new to come along with you. The possibilities are endless, but it's our duty to introduce others to the tradition of hunting.

As always, thank you for supporting Whitetails Unlimited and our mission, and remember, our job here is never done. I'll leave you with this final question. What can you do to help preserve hunting for the next generation?

Preserving the Hunting Tradition

Feature Project

Catch-A-Dream Foundation

Whitetails Unlimited granted $65,427 to the Catch-A-Dream Foundation this past fiscal year. The majority of these funds came as a result of the Dream Sheds program. The Dream Sheds concept began when Mark and Terry Drury of Drury Outdoors approached White-tails Unlimited with an innovative idea. They had collected a large number of exceptional shed antlers from their properties in Iowa and Missouri, and were willing to donate them to use as a fundraiser for a worthy cause. Working with WTU, the Catch-A-Dream Foundation was identified, and the program came together.

Deer Anatomy Education

Hunters should know to focus on the “kill zone” when taking aim at a deer. Even if you don’t hunt, you probably understand why ethical shot placement is so important. What is found behind a deer’s shoulder area that drives hunters to aim there? Knowing the answer behind this question will help you better understand basic deer anatomy and become a more knowledgeable hunter.

At Whitetails Unlimited, education is a very important part of our mission. Therefore, members attending a WTU 2024-2025 event will find a pullout poster in the Event Annual with an illustration of white-tailed deer anatomy on one side and a deer target on the reverse side. The poster can be displayed in a hunting camp or used for bow or firearm practice. Both sides of this dual-purpose poster help promote WTU’s deer anatomy education initiative.

Field Dressing Safety

At a young age, we are taught that hunting safety is one of the most important things to remember when heading out to the woods. From wearing blaze orange to always using a safety harness when sitting in a tree stand, staying safe is one of the keys to successful hunting. However, safety shouldn’t end when you pull the trigger or release an arrow. Safety while field dressing your deer is also important to prevent the spread of disease.

At Whitetails Unlimited, we strongly advocate for safe hunting, which is why we are also doing our part to promote safe field dressing. To create awareness around this initiative, all members attending a WTU 2024-2025 event will receive a free field dressing kit that contains a pair of form-fitting gloves and shoulder-length gloves, along with a disinfectant towelette. We hope this will encourage another safe practice this season and future seasons as well.

Kids on Target

As an advocate for the preservation of the shooting sports, Whitetails Unlimited is helping build the next generation of shooting sports enthusiasts by supporting public archery and firearm ranges.

Major emphasis is placed on Whitetails Unlimited shooting sports activities including Kids on Target, and our shooting team initiative. These initiatives provide youth with an introduction to archery and firearm fundamentals to help nurture a lifelong interest in the shooting sports, and ultimately, hunting.

As part of our mission, Whitetails Unlimited has worked hard to introduce youth to archery, shooting, and hunting. For members who want to join our efforts by taking a youngster to the range and teaching them the basics of safety and usage, free Kids on Targets kits will be available at WTU 2024-2025 events.

Fulfilling Fallen Eagle Scout Candidate's Dream

A grant of $10,000 on behalf of Iowa's Greenbelt Chapter went to fulfill Brandon Zigrang's Eagle Scout community service project. Brandon, a high school sophomore, was an active member of Boy Scout Troop 1047 in Clarion, Iowa, and was working toward his Eagle Scout award. His project was the construction of an accessible fishing pier and fish cleaning stations on the shore of Lake Cornelia which was his favorite fishing spot. Sadly, he tragically lost his life by suicide in the fall of 2022. His family and coworkers at Hennigar Construction completed the project in his memory.
